WHERE THE MONEY IS.

The world's money forms a very small part of its wealth. The amount now in use is estimated by Mulhall as £780,000,000 of gold, £801,000,000 silver, £846,000,000 paper; total, £9,437,000,000. Ix Denmark the value of real estate has increased £199,000,000 in thirtyseven years. This result is due to the breaking up of the large estates of the nobility and their purchase by the STATISTICIANS estimate that in Great Britain there are 700 millionaire familles, 9,650 "very rich," 148,250 "rich," 780,000 in "moderate circumstances," 2,008,000 "struggling to keep up" and 8,916,900 "poor." THE value of land in Great Britain se enormously during the Canadian and American wars of the last century and increased still further during the French wars, owing to the demand for grain and its advanced price. THE official classification of French houses in 1868 showed that 158,000 were inhabited by the nobility and gentry, 582,000 by merchants and commercial people, 2,107,000 by "tradesmen" and 4,453,000 by laborers and operatives.

THE WORLD'S POLICE.

PERIN has 1,300 police stations. DUBLIS, with a population of 350,000, has 1.146 police.

THE Hawaiian islands have sixty pocomen regularly employed as such. MINNEAPOLIS has 280,000 population and 225 police. Arrests last year, 5,966. NEW ORLEANS has $49,000 and 274 Last year arrests numbered

After hi marriage be moved to Marshall coun ty, and in January, 1858, he was elected elerk of the house at the first session held in Des Moines. In the fall of that year he was elected district attorney of the Eleventh judicial district, a pe sition he held until August, 1861, when he resigned to enter the service of his country. He became captain of the Second Iowa cavalry, and subsequentwas promoted to major and Sheridan and Rosecrans, and when "Old Rosy" was transferred to the army of the Cumberland Col. eers whom he obtained permission to take with him. Col. Hepburn served on Rosecrans' staff as judge advocate and afterwards became inspector general of cavalry. After his term of service expired, in the fall of 1864, he went to Memphis and was given com-raised by the department commander. He remained in Memphis until the summer of 1867, and June 20 of that year he moved with his family to Clarinda, where they have since resided. Col. Hepburn is now serving his fifth ed in 1886, when Col. Anderson re ceived the unjority of the votes at the polls. In this case the fight was over the interstate commerce law. Col. Heplearn had voted for the Cullom bill and his opponent made the Reagan bill his political text.

In 1880 Col. Hepburn was appointed solicitor of the treasury, a position which he held antil he resigned at the close of the republican administration, March 8, 1898. During his terms of congressional service he has been a mem ber of the committees on public lands patents, persions, the traffic in alco aolie liquors, woman suffrage and elections and in the present congress he is a member of the committees on interstate and foreign commerce and Pacitic rallways.
